Ceiling Crashes At Orpheum After Last Night Show

Storm May Have Cracked Plaster; Repairs Will Keep Building Idle for Some Time

Thousands of pounds of plaster and wood from the ceiling of the Orpheum Theatre crashed to the floor about 12:30 a. m. today, less than two hours after the completion of the last evening performance. The theatre was unoccupied at the time and the place had been locked for the night, David Sherry, manager, said.

The section which fell was at the front, or stage end, of the theatre and extended back about 35 feet for the width of the building, according to a report made by Deputy Fire Chief Harold Sanford, who conducted a preliminary investigation.

Cause of the incident has not been determined yet, although Sherry said that the fact that the plaster had been applied over the old wooden ceiling and the fact that the storm which hit the evening had been particularly violent in that area might have been contributing factors. An investigation is being conducted by Fire Chief Joseph L. Murphy, building inspector.

Several large trees were uprooted by the storm on Spring street within several hundred feet of the theatre building.

The ceiling in falling damaged some of the front seats, but the bulk of the impact was taken by the stage, Sherry said. It will be impossible to estimate the amount of damage until a thorough inspection is made of the building after the debris is cleared away, the manager said.

Sherry also said today that the theatre will be closed for repairs for an indefinite period.

The damage was discovered early this morning after a passer-by, hearing a loud crash from within the theatre, telephoned Sherry at about 12:30 a. m. Sherry immediately notified police and Patrolmen McDonough and Leonard Ellsworth were sent to assist him in making an inspection. The fire department was also notified and Deputy Chief Sanford went to the building.

Edison Will Vote For Thomas Dewey

Former Democratic Chief of Jersey Says U. S. Needs Cleaning

West Orange, N. J., July 6 (AP)—Charles Edison, former Democratic governor of New Jersey, says the government "needs a thorough house-cleaning" and he will vote this year for Republican Presidential Candidate Thomas E. Dewey.

Edison, who served as Secretary of the Navy under the late President Roosevelt, said in a statement yesterday that Frank Hague's decision to support Gen. Eisenhower was a "political double-cross of the President of the United States."

But Edison said there is "no question about the affection and esteem in which Gen. Eisenhower is held as a military man. I share this sentiment. But I am willing to accept Gen. Eisenhower's own statement that he feels unqualified for the presidency."

"It must not be forgotten that even a good man can be frustrated, crippled and rendered powerless as a leader by deeply entrenched and powerful political organizations."

"Sixteen years of power and friendly cooperation with the Federal government have allowed Eisenhower to build a huge army of office holders and associates in positions from the highest to the lowest. They will do the bidding of the man who has been in power, and who will not often be so directed to the welfare of our country."

5,570 Are Dead

Tokyo, July 6 (AP)—Fukui prefectural police estimated today that last week's earthquake took 5,570 lives and injured 18,528. Damage was estimated at 48,500,000,000 yen ($179,620,000).

James Roosevelt Insists on Carrying Out Plans to Nominate General; Leaders of Caucus Make No Comment

New York, July 6 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower last night made a flat disavowal of political ambitions with a statement that he "could not accept nomination for any public office."

Eisenhower broke a political silence of almost six months to take public cognizance of the booming draft-Eisenhower movement within the Democratic party.

But many leaders of the draft movement said they would not take the General's "no" for an answer and would continue efforts to win the top spot on the Democratic ticket for him.

Eisenhower's statement, released by Robert Harron, Columbia University director of public information, said:

"I will not, at this time, identify myself with any political party, and could not accept nomination for any public office or participate in partisan political contest."

Sharp Storm Hits City and County; Lights Disrupted

Falling Trees, Lightning Halt Service in Some Areas; Roof Is Lifted

Following a holiday week-end of perfect vacation weather, a short but severe electrical storm struck this area about 7:15 p. m. Sunday, causing considerable scattered damage from falling trees and interruptions of electrical power.

The Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation reported scattered damage throughout the Kingston district, with power interruptions in downtown Kingston, Woodstock and the Glasco area. In most cases falling trees had carried wires down with them, but a few instances of poles being struck by lightning and transformer fuses being blown were reported.

In Kingston a gust of wind carried a part of the metal roof from a building at 35 Mill street over the Weber Hose Company building and deposited it on the roof of the Levine Brothers building at the corner of Hasbrouck avenue and Mill street. In landing, the roof contacted several wires and resulted in calls to the fire department, the police and the Central Hudson repair crews.

Removing the metal from the wires proved to be a difficult task and required combined efforts of the electric company and the fire department. Men worked for more than two hours and the use of the aerial truck from the Central fire station and of the portable lighting system from the Cornell pumper was necessary before the situation could be cleared up.

Wires were also taken down by a large tree which fell on Post street near Spring street, the police reported.

Traffic was slowed temporarily on Wurts street about 7:30 p. m., when a large tree fell into the street between Hunter and Spring streets, completely blocking one lane to traffic.

Other trees which fell included two large trees on Spring street and one on East Strand on the Preston property. Numerous other trees were down in various sections of the city but were not reported to police because they did not block traffic.

Restaurant Closes Jeweler to Move In

Max Bruggmann Is Giving Full Time to New Eating Place

Herman's Restaurant, 290 Wall street, was closed today by its proprietor, Max Bruggmann, who for the past ten years has operated a bar and restaurant business at that location. The store has been leased by G. A. Schneider and Son, who are planning to operate a jewelry store there, according to Bruggmann.

Herman's Restaurant is located in the building formerly used as a shoe store by Beck-Hazard, Inc. In 1933, Cliff Moore established a tavern business there under the name of "Green Bar." After about one year, Herman Milington leased the building and operated it as a restaurant.

Strong States Right Plank May Be Written for South

Washington, July 6 (AP)—Democratic platform drafters talked today of writing in a strong States Rights plank to help cool off southern bitterness over Civil Rights.

The issue of granting greater rights to Negroes and other minority groups has stirred up a major problem for the platform writers as they got ready for their first meeting in Philadelphia tomorrow.

This is the reported aim of the platform committee, headed by Pennsylvania's Senator Francis J. Myers.

"To find some compromise satisfactory both to the backers of President Truman's controversial Civil Rights program and to the Southern whites who have threatened to split the party wide open over that program."

The group plans to hold public hearings tomorrow, Thursday, and

Action Shows Support for Premier Tito Now Under Central Fire of Russia

Contradiction Seen

Belgrade, July 6 (AP)—Yugoslavs were reported today to have given evidence of support for Premier Marshal Tito, who has been denounced by the Soviet-controlled Cominform.

The Yugoslav Communist newspaper Borba said last night that in five days the public subscribed $50,000,000 of the $70,000,000 national loan.

Other press accounts said local committees of the Communist party all over the country are sending messages to Belgrade that they are "with the marshal." The National Organization of War Invalids resolved that its members will renew their efforts toward helping build socialism under Tito.

But there was an air of contradiction in the press. On the front pages appeared reports of blistering replies by Yugoslav Communist leaders to the Cominform charges that Tito and his lieutenants were deviating from the orthodox Communist line and were pursuing a hateful policy toward Russia.

The back pages of the same papers carried news items telling of normal operations between the countries belonging to the Cominform, or Communist International Information Bureau.

Borba said the members of a Bulgarian cultural delegation asked upon their arrival in Belgrade last week that no dinner be given in their honor. However, the Yugoslavs solved the problem by telling them there would be no toast at the dinner, thus eliminating the need for praising Tito or anyone else.

Yugoslav-Albanian relations apparently remained strained. The Yugoslav legation in Tirana said Albanian police had blocked all food for Yugoslavs in the border town of Scutari.

Borba, which carried the report, said: "This made the feelings of Yugoslav representatives impossible."

It was assumed in Belgrade that the Yugoslav representatives were supervising one or more of the numerous Yugoslav-Albanian trade agreements.

Albania severed trade relations with Yugoslavia last week and ordered the expulsion of military, political and cultural but there was no indication that any of them had left Albanian soil.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said in London that Bulgaria and Yugoslavia have signed a one-year agreement for cultural cooperation. The report indicated that the backing Bulgarian's ruling Communists gave to the Cominform's denunciation of Tito has not impaired diplomatic relations between the two countries.

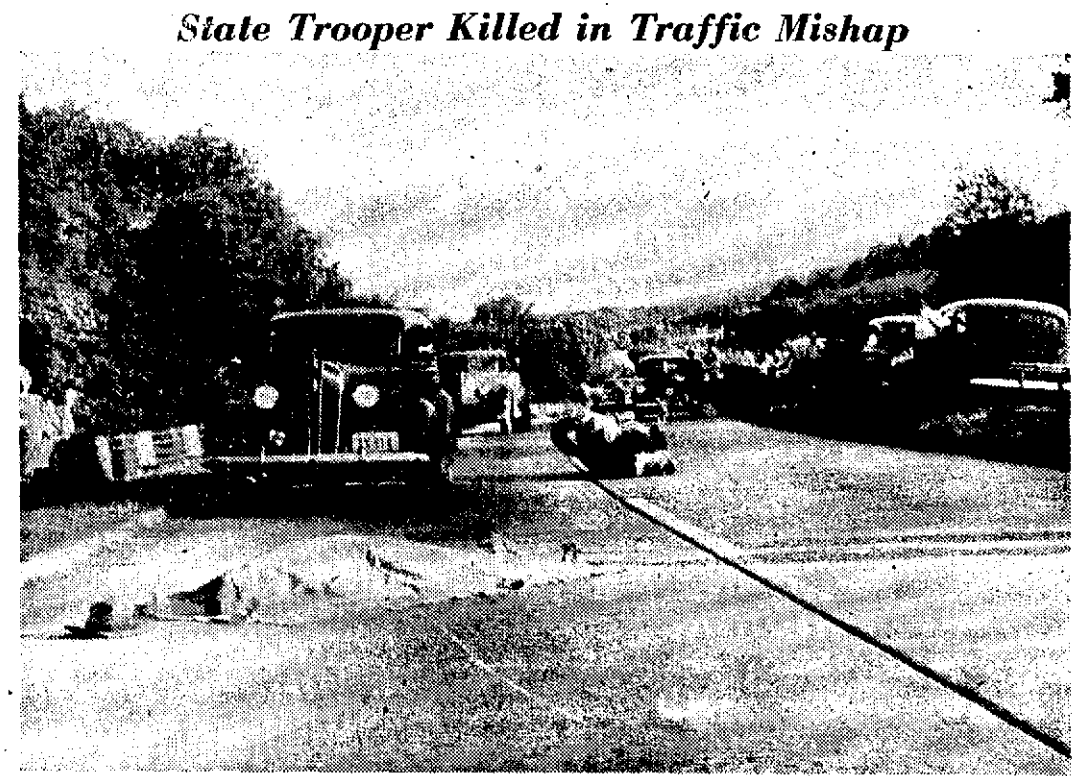

Well-informed sources in Bucharest, Romania, said they believed the Cominform met there over the week-end, possibly to discuss its controversy with Tito. Foreign newsmen there were unable to verify the report and the Romanian press did not mention any meeting.

Man Is Injured

Lawrence Steinhaber, 72 Wrentham street, lineman for the New York Central Railroad and Western Union, was reported injured when the railroad moleman on the tracks at the Smith avenue crossing at about 10:30 a. m. today. X-rays were taken at the Kingston Hospital and reports there indicated that he was not seriously injured. It was reported at his home that he had suffered a shoulder injury. Railroad authorities said they had no official report to make on the accident at this time.

Paralysis Hits South

Raleigh, N. C., July 6 (AP)—The third worst outbreak of infantile paralysis in North Carolina history showed no sign of abating today. Through yesterday the state had counted 389 cases this year. Sixteen new cases were reported during the day to the state board of health.

New York State Trooper Robert V. Conklin was killed Sunday near Highland after his cycle, headed north, struck the curb at the dividing island and threw him to the pavement. The dead trooper's body lies under the shroud on the roadway. (Ken Roosa Photo)

Brooklyn Woman Killed; Car Hit by Run-away Tractor

Several Persons Are Hurt as Truck Careens Downhill at Wurtsboro

Wurtsboro, July 6—Rose Popper, 31, of Brooklyn, was killed instantly when the sedan in which she was riding was crushed by the impact of a "run-away tractor-trailer" on a long hill on Route 17 here at 5:15 p. m. July 3, according to the state police.

The car in which the woman rode, operated by William Peterson, 27, of Astoria, and other vehicles were struck by the heavy truck on its wry course down the hill, and several persons were injured, the report said.

Sigmund Papp, 34, of Garfield, was injured.

DuBois Arrested After Accident

Allegedly Stole Auto; Faces Two Other Charges

A wild ride in an automobile which police alleged was stolen ended in this city at 6:55 a. m. Sunday when the car struck and badly damaged a retaining wall at 303 East Chester street, turned completely over once and came to rest on its wheels, the police reported.

Police identified the driver of the automobile as Frank DuBois, 28, of 153 Abel street, whom they arrested on charges of stealing the automobile, of driving while intoxicated and of driving without an operator's license.

A passenger in the car, Eddie Johnson, 14, of Passaic, N. J., was taken to Kingston Hospital with a possible fracture of the skull and severe lacerations about his head and face, as a result of the accident, police said. His condition was listed as "fairly good" at the hospital today.

Police charged DuBois stole a 1937 Chevrolet coach worth $475 and owned by Louis Bevier of Modena, and that he drove the car to Kingston, where he was traveling on East Chester street when the car swerved to the left and struck the wall on the property of Charles Hoehing, a member of the police department. Considerable damage was done to the wall, the lawn and a tree on the property, police said.

In city court today, DuBois waived examination of the charge of grand larceny, second degree, and was ordered held for grand jury action. Bail is to be set by a judge other than the city judge.

On the other charges, one of driving while intoxicated and one of driving without a license, DuBois pleaded guilty and was given a choice of $50 fine or 25 days in jail on each charge. He was committed to the Ulster County Jail pending fixing of bail on the larceny charge and payment of fines on the other charges.

All Resorts Report Biggest Business

Public Carriers Crowded Bringing Guests to Vacationland

Summer resort business in this area was reported "the biggest we ever had" by numerous resort communities in the Ulster-Greene Counties Vacationland area over the past holiday week-end. Warm, clear weather coupled with the long Fourth of July week-end brought out a rush of visitors and transportation lines were taxed to capacity.

Business was extremely brisk at amusement places, taverns and gas stations and in some places food supplies ran short due to the extreme demand.

A survey made today among the larger hotels and boarding houses of the area indicated that many of the larger houses were booked full for the next two weeks and many reported capacity reservations for the July 15-August 15 period although others said accommodations were still available in their places, although indications pointed to a record season.

At the Ulster county publicity bureau office in the court house today it was stated that the past week-end was unquestionably the largest summer week-end Ulster county had experienced and that while many places were reported

Day Shifts Fail to Report At Three Captive Mines

Pittsburgh, July 6 (AP)—A walk-out of 40,000 captive coal miners began today and in western Pennsylvania the bulk of commercial miners remained idle in a sympathy walkout.

The mines at which no production crews entered were the Robena Mine, world's largest captive mine, National No. 1 and National No. 3. All are operated by H. C. Frick Coke Co., U. S. Steel subsidiary.

At National No. 1, near Bridgeville, Pa., a miner in carpet slippers paced near one of the roads leading to the pit. He said he was not picketing but "just watching."

"They don't work today," he added.

As the 10-day mine vacation ended, most of the 400,000 bituminous miners returned to work under a new contract granting a $1 a day pay boost and a welfare fund royalty doubled to 10-cents-a-ton.

Recent Russian Policy in German Capital Protested, Sources Declare

Time 'Allowed'

Washington, July 6 (AP)—The United States demanded directly to the Soviet government today that the Russian blockade of Berlin be lifted.

Secretary of State Marshall presented the American note of protest personally to Soviet Ambassador Alexander S. Panyushkin.

Immediately afterward, State Department Press Officer Lincoln White issued this statement:

"Ambassador Panyushkin called on the secretary at 11:30 o'clock this morning and was given a note regarding the situation in Berlin."

"The ambassador was informed that it is not the intention of this government to make the contents of the note public until the Soviet government had a reasonable period of time to study the note and make its reply."

The United States acted in concert with Britain and France in protesting strongly the Soviet blockade of the German capital.

White officially gave no intimation of the line which Marshall took.

Other diplomatic informants said there appeared no doubt that he demanded the immediate lifting of the Berlin blockade and protested Russia's recent policies in the German capital. They said he argued that the Soviet Union must directly accept responsibility for any lack of supplies among the millions of Germans living in Berlin.

White did not determine what was meant by a "reasonable period of time" in which the Soviet government could study the American note but presumably it meant several days at least.

The contents of the notes from the three western powers are not expected to be disclosed for several days. Notes similar to that of the U. S. were understood to have been handed the Soviet Ambassador in London and Paris.

Panyushkin said Marshall had not expressed to him directly any views on Berlin. He did not say what they talked about during the time he was in the secretary's office.

Panyushkin told reporters as he left the department that he had received a note from Marshall but didn't know what was in it. He was in Marshall's office for 14 minutes.

American sources had said Marshall would protest Soviet policies in Berlin and present a demand for lifting the Russian blockade in the German capital.

Marshall was reported acting jointly with Britain and France in protesting the blockade and making a direct approach to Moscow to insist on its removal.

At the same time, ambassadors of five western European powers and Canada were called into conference with Undersecretary of State Lovett. These talks are the first of what may prove to be a historic series of meetings on American military support for the western European bloc.

Marshall's plan to see Panyushkin coincided with dispatches from London saying that the British and French in parallel notes also are demanding the Soviet blockade on the German capital be lifted.

The three western powers have decided to announce the move when their protest notes are delivered but not to disclose the contents of those notes at least for several days.

State Department officials explained the secrecy is required because the direct demand by the western powers on the Soviet government raises extremely serious issues. They said Russian leaders will have to be given plenty of time to study the demands fully.

Scheduled to confer with Lovett were ambassadors of Britain, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Canada.

The five European nations represented are members of a western organization formed to coordinate according to the state police report, it fell on top of the trooper. Dr. Angelo Johnson of City Hospital, Welfare Island, New York, who came upon the scene shortly after the accident, pronounced the trooper dead, and Corporal Jesse McHugh of Wallkill gave a verdict of accidental death.

Trooper Is Killed

The trooper's head was badly crushed and death was apparently due to a skull fracture. The report said that one witness was questioned after the accident and information obtained indicated that the car which swerved out to pass one ahead "is probably what caused it to strike the curb of the island."

Trooper Conklin's home is at Sloatsburgh and he is survived by his father, a step-mother and a brother who is in military service in Germany. The trooper was single and had served in the Navy for about three years during World War 2. The funeral will be held from his home Thursday.

In another accident in the Highland area at 4 p. m. Monday, Stanley Ciojasky, 66, of Highland, was reported injured when a truck, owned by him, and operated by Kenneth Cannon, 24, of Highland, overturned on a curve on Route 299 in front of the Highland High School.

Ciojasky was taken to Vassar Hospital for a skull fracture and treated for a possible brain concussion. His condition was believed not to be serious.

State Trooper Ray Dunn reported two minor accidents in the Phoenixia area Sunday, but said none of the occupants of the vehicles involved, was injured. The Saugerties police also reported minor accidents resulting in only "fender benders" and troopers at the Lake Katrine state police sub-station reported no accidents over the week-end.

The sheriff's office also reported no accidents, but one arrest for reckless driving.

Charles Scully, 34, of 44 Stickles avenue, was arrested Sunday night by Deputy Sheriff Adolph Sapp and A. Ellsworth at Hurley on a charge of reckless driving, and not interfere with traffic or cause interruptions of electric power. The fire department was called at 7:50 p. m. for a transformer burning on Union street near the Union Hose Company engine house. Deputy Fire Chief Harold Sanford was dispatched to the location and remained until the arrival of a Central Hudson crew.

There were no reports of personal injury in Ulster county which could be attributed to the storm, and as far as could be learned the storm caused no undue delay to the heavy traffic bound for New York city.

The New York Telephone Company reported only a few cases of minor service interruptions, which were in scattered sections of the county.

Sunday's storm was the third electrical storm within the past two weeks which caused considerable damage and power interruptions in this area.

One car was driven by William G. Knipscher, 48, of Roscoe, headed east on the route, and the other, attempting to pass, was driven by Charles Bethencourt of New York. State Trooper Dunn reported.

The first car hooked the bumper of the other and pulled it a considerable distance, the trooper said. Rose Bradley, 68, riding with Knipscher, suffered contusions, abrasions and lacerations and was treated by a doctor.

Bethencourt was arrested by Trooper Dunn on a reckless driving charge and was fined $15 when he was arraigned before Peace Justice William C. Weyman.

Constable Leland Newhall of the Town of Shandaken assisted in handling traffic at the scene.

Two Autos Stolen

Two automobiles were reported stolen within three hours Monday, both from Ravine street addresses, the police reported. The first, reported taken from in front of 21 Ravine street at 10:50 a. m. was owned by Daniel R. Barnhart of that address and was later located by sheriff's office men on the Rosendale hill. The car was upside down when located and the person who stole the car was not found, according to police. The second automobile was reported stolen at 1:30 p. m. by its owner, Harry Lang, of 90 Ravine street. This was located by police at Cornell Park and had been "quite badly damaged" police said.

Osirichs may weigh from 150 to 300 pounds.

Cummings. There were many spiritual bouquets and numerous floral tributes. Bearers were William Cannon, Anthony Hines, Richard Donnelly, William Connelly, Edward Noble and John Hines. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery, where the Rev. Father Comyns pronounced the final absolution.

The funeral of Julia V. Gorham, wife of the late James J. Gorham, was held from the residence of her son, Thomas L. Gorham, 32 Andrews street, Monday morning at 9 o'clock and at St. Mary's Church at 9:30 o'clock where a high Mass of requiem was celebrated by the Rev. Mr. Msgr. Martin J. Drury, P.R., V.F. for the repose of her soul. Responses to the Mass were sung by the children's choir under the direction of Theodore Riccobono, organist. At the offertory of the Mass the choir sang "Ave Maria." Seated within the chancel were the Rev. Austin V. Carey, the Rev. John J. Drew and the Rev. Edward E. Kelly. During the time the body rested at home many friends and neighbors called to pay their respects. The many flowers which were banked about the casket and the spiritual bouquets in the form of Mass cards bespoke the esteem in which Mrs. Gorham was held by those who knew her. Among the clergy who called at the home were Monsignor Drury, Father Carey and Father Flaherty. Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock St. Mary's Rosary Society assisted Monsignor Drury in the recitation of the Rosary. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery where Father Drew gave the final blessing. The bearers were Michael Brown, George Betts, Frank Fautz and Frank Hafer.

The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Ryan, widow of John J. Ryan of St. Remy, was held this morning at 9 o'clock from her late home in that village and at 9:30 o'clock at the Church of the Sacred Heart, where a high Mass of requiem was offered for the repose of her soul by the Rev. Joseph O'Rourke. Many relatives, friends and neighbors attended the services to pay a last tribute of respect to her memory. During the Mass, Miss Barbara Bruck sang Ave Maria and at the conclusion following the final absolution also sang Panis Angelicus. During the bereavement many calls at her home in St. Remy to express words of sympathy and to offer prayers in her behalf. Monday evening the Rev. Father O'Rourke called and led in the recitation of the Holy Rosary for the repose of her soul. The Rev. John J. Drew, former assistant at St. Mary's Church, also visited at the home. Many beautiful floral pieces and scores of Mass cards placed near the casket testified to the high esteem in which she was held. The bearers were John Ryan, Jr., Elmer Freer, Philip Ryan, Jr., and Elmer Freer. The burial took place in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery where the Rev. Father O'Rourke gave the final absolution at the grave. Mrs. Ryan, who resided at St. Remy for more than 60 years, was one of the oldest in the community. She is survived by four daughters, Miss Elizabeth and Miss Sarah Ryan at home, Mrs. Robert Smith of Kingston, and Mrs. James Weir of New York city; seven sons, Philip A. of Cleveland, William and Joseph of Auburn, Peter of Scranton, Pa., Eugene of Chicago, Ill., Thomas of Kingston and John J. Ryan at home; 15 grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Mrs. Ryan was a faithful member of Sacred Heart Church, Eddyville.

RUMORS

I never like rumors
By those who bring joy
Too often I find them
In trouble's employ
A fragment of knowledge
Is often the start
That fashions a story
Untruthful . . . in part.

A rumor is nourished
By those who repeat
And add to the story
That travels the street.
A rumor makes merry
In parties and crowds
And grows with abandon
Like Summer-time clouds.
A rumor that's friendly
Is welcome indeed . . .
It merits assistance
To grow like a weed.

MORTICARS

Traffic Cases Occupy City Court Attention

In city court this morning a number of traffic cases and other cases resulting from arrests in this city during the week-end were disposed of by City Judge Matthew V. Cahill.

Robert A. Lennon, 21, of the U. S. Navy, pleaded guilty to charges of leaving the scene of an accident, causing property damage only, and driving without a license. On the first charge he was given a choice of $50 fine or 25 days in jail, and on the second, $5 fine or five days in jail. He was committed to jail pending payment of the fines. Police charged he was the driver of an automobile which struck and damaged the car of Matthew Weishaupt, which was parked in front of 103 Albany avenue.

Three persons forfeited $5 bail on charges of passing to the left of the traffic standard at the intersection of Albany and Clinton avenues. These were identified by police as Maurice Van Ham, 46, of Woodside, Queens; Max Cantor, 50, of Brooklyn; and Richard Metzler, 28, of Inwood, L. I.

James Buchicchio, 19, of Brooklyn, forfeited $5 bail on a charge of passing a red traffic signal. Florence D. Berrigan, 37, of Poughkeepsie, forfeited $10 on a charge of passing a red traffic light and an additional $20 on a charge of speeding.

Arthur D. Washington, 26, of 24 East Union street, forfeited $5 bail on a charge of turning right from the outside lane at Clinton avenue and Albany avenue, in violation of a city traffic ordinance. The case against Frank Francis Ferquell, 25, of Route 1, Kingston, charged with speeding was adjourned until tomorrow morning.

Charles Wilson, 40, of 19 Ann street, pleaded innocent of a charge of third degree assault and his case was adjourned until July 8. He was released on $300 bail. He was arrested Monday afternoon on complaint of Arthur Mills.

Leaves From Boyle's Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—A lady I know works in a warehouse of raw misery.

It is one of the vast hospitals built by the city to filter its ill and misfit. Here they find a quiet bed against the final darkness—one of every three who enters is under the shadow of death—or a refuge from a life crisis that cracked their minds.

"The lady sees them come" and go by the hundreds. She says her work each day is like reading an unfinished novel by Charles Dickens or Leo Tolstoy.

And she told me of one case in which she tried to help write a happy ending:

One patient was a small elderly man, grateful for her kindness. He was ill and had been picked up in an intoxicated condition, but she soon was convinced he wasn't a true alcoholic.

One day he told her his story: "Many years ago my wife died," he said. "We had four children. I had hard luck and couldn't take care of them. I just didn't have the money. I put them in a religious institution—and then, well, I guess I just went to pieces. I faded out of the picture."

The old man left the hospital shortly afterward. A few days later the lady noticed his name again on a roster of new mental patients. But the age was much younger.

Curious, she went to see the patient. He was in his twenties, then she said:

Now-try my real mustard flavor

GULDEN'S Mustard

but bore such a strong resemblance to the older man that she was certain immediately he was a son.

She tried to talk to him, but his mind was deep behind the velvet curtain that cloaks the schizophrenic from reality. She checked his record and found that a sister was listed as his closest relative.

Excited at the possibility of reuniting the family, she got in touch with the sister. A short talk with the woman convinced her that she really had found the son and daughter of the old man.

Diplomatically she brought up the possibility of arranging a meeting with the father.

"What is he like—my father?" the daughter asked. "I don't remember him. As a girl in the orphan's home I used to wonder about him."

My friend told her that he was old and tired, that he had seemed to her a kindly man, and that his long-ago desertion still preyed on his mind.

The daughter thought it over. Then she said:

"I guess I don't want to see him now. It's too late. The other two children are gone. My brother and I are the only ones left, and I have to worry about him."

And she said bitterly: "We've been orphans so long we might as well stay that way."

I asked the lady if the daughter had inquired her father's address.

"No."

"Aren't you going to get in touch with the old man and let him know what you found?"

"Have I any right to?" said the lady. "Would you?"

Bedsheet Rescue

Dennis, Mass., July 6 (AP)—Film Actor Jackie Cooper fashioned a rope of bedsheet to rescue his wife and two-year-old son when lightning started a fire in their summer home last night. After being stunned momentarily, Cooper knotted the sheets, helped his wife and son out a second-floor window and then slid to safety himself. The flames were confined to a bathroom on the second floor. The damage was reported by police as slight.

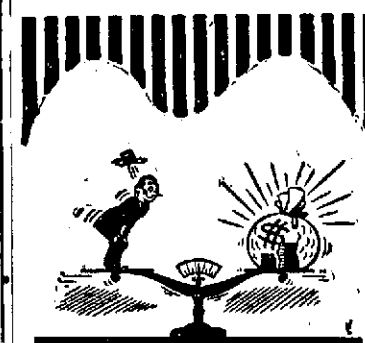

No Shortages, Says Peron

Buenos Aires, July 6 (AP)—President Juan D. Peron says "impressible and discontented persons are conducting a campaign of rumors and confusion" about the economic condition of Argentina. Speaking last night at the annual dinner of the armed forces, Peron said Argentina owes nothing and has eliminated the black market and foreign currency speculation. The country's only shortage, he declared, is a shortage of workers.

Goldmann Fears Riots in Germany

Montreux, Switzerland, July 6 (AP)—Dr. Nahum Goldmann, chairman of the World Jewish Congress Executive, says anti-semitic rioting may break out soon in Germany.

Speaking at the closing session of the Congress last night, he said that attacks by western zone Germans against Jewish displaced persons are expected at any moment. He urged Allied occupation authorities to take "firm precautionary measures."

An unidentified delegate, a displaced person, said the rioting was feared because of allegedly systematic rumors and a press campaign accusing Jewish displaced persons of profiteering with the new currency in Germany's western zones.

Have Red Propaganda

Seoul, Korea, July 6 (AP)—Police said today anti-American pamphlets and Communist propaganda have been found in nurses' quarters in the Seoul Red Cross Hospital. Some of the Korean nurses and doctors are being questioned but none has been arrested. Police Chief T. S. Chang announced.

Food Plane Crashes

Frankfurt, Germany, July 6 (AP)—U. S. Air Force Headquarters said today an American plane flying food to blockaded Berlin, crashed during bad weather last night, slightly injuring three crewmen. They said the plane, a C-47, was badly damaged. It was the first accident in more than 1,100 food-shuttling flights, to Berlin, they reported.

Goodsell Elected

Hartford, Conn., July 6 (AP)—Percy H. Goodsell of White Plains, N. Y., was elected sergeant-at-arms of the Society of the Cincinnati in the State of Connecticut at the annual meeting held in the Senate chamber of the state capitol here Saturday.

Still Climbs Poles

Houston, Tex. (AP)—At 91, E. R. Pullman of Houston still climbs flagpoles. Until 10 years ago, he had a hand in erecting most of the tall smokestacks around Houston. Now he's in semi-retirement but when the ballyard slipped from a 50-foot flagpole in his front yard, he shinned to the top and fixed it. English-born, he got his start as a sailor.

Radio for Poland

Warsaw (AP)—The government-controlled Radio Polskie plans to build its most powerful broadcasting station in Warsaw. The new station's mast is to be almost 1,000 feet high. Equipment for this station and another at Cieszyn, on the Polish-Czech border, is to come from Czechoslovakia and the United States.

Carole Landis Is Suicide in Home On Pacific Coast

CAROLE LANDIS

Los Angeles, July 6 (AP)—The glamorized movie career of actress Carole Landis came to an abrupt end yesterday with the finding of her body in the bathroom of her Pacific Palisades home. Police said she had taken her own life.

Clutched in her hand was a satin ribbon with the Lord's Prayer imprinted in gold lettering. On a nearby dresser was a final note addressed to her mother.

Capt. of Detectives Emmett Jones said: "This is definitely suicide." The detective said there were four bottles of sleeping pills in Miss Landis' bathroom and dressing room. He said an empty bottle was found near the body.

Capt. Jones reported the beautiful blond actress, 29, had died perhaps 12 hours before the body was found by film actor Rex Harrison, who said he had been unable to reach her by telephone regarding a business matter.

The officers said a maid was in the home but had thought Miss Landis was still in her bedroom and did not notice the body huddled in a corner of the bathroom.

Miss Landis left a note, written on her own stationery, which read as follows:

"Dearest Mommie—
"I'm sorry, really sorry to put you through this but there is no way to avoid it—I love you darling, you have been the most wonderful Mom ever—and that applies to all our family. I love each and every one of them dearly—everything goes to you—look in the files and there is a will which deuces everything—
"Goodbye, my angel—pray for me—your baby."
Harrison told police that Miss

Landis had been ill for a week, suffering a recurrence of an amoebic infection she incurred during a wartime entertainment tour in the South Pacific. The actor said he and Miss Landis had been discussing plans for a film they were to make in England.

Only last March 22 the actress filed suit to divorce her fourth husband, theatrical producer Horace Schmidlapp, on grounds of cruelty. Schmidlapp, who was at Cincinnati, O., said he was shocked by his wife's death and was leaving immediately for California.

The actress' mother, Mrs. Clara Landis of Seminole Hot Springs, Calif., did not arrive at her daughter's home until about four hours after the discovery. She collapsed, crying:

"Oh, my baby, I want to see my baby. Why didn't somebody call me?"

The mother was accompanied by Miss Landis' sister, Mrs. Walter L. Ross, of Long Beach, Calif. Other survivors are the father, Alfred L. Ridste of Richmond, Calif., and a brother, Lawrence B. Ridste, San Bernardino, Calif.

The body was taken to a Santa Monica mortuary.

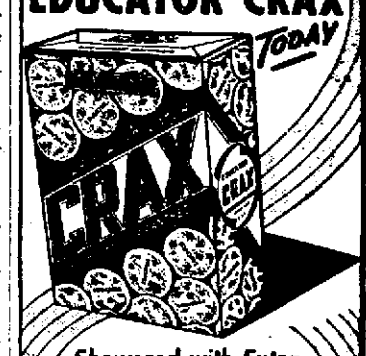

Miss Landis, daughter of a railroad mechanic, was born Frances Ridste at Fairchild, Wis. She moved to San Diego, Calif., as a small child and was educated there and at San Bernardino.

She had been in films for 11 years and made her first real hit when she appeared in a leopard skin in the film "1,000,000 B.C."

Thereafter she starred in many films. Before her marriage to Schmidlapp she had been the wife of Major Thomas C. Wallace, Author Irving Wheeler and Yachtsman Willis Hunt, Jr. All three marriages ended in divorce.

Peterson and Ross
Are Co-Stars in Playhouse Show

Woodstock, July 6—Dorothy Peterson and Anthony Ross will co-star in All My Sons by Arthur Miller at the Woodstock Playhouse beginning this evening and continuing through Sunday, July 11.

The play is about a man's moral responsibility in wartime. It presents the problem of a man who has become rich as a manufacturer of airplane parts for the army but in the process allows some defective engines to be sent out. His son upon returning from the army discovers this. First performed in 1947, All My Sons won the Critics Prize as the best play on Broadway for that year. Dorothy Peterson has been in more than 100 moving picture productions since arriving in Hollywood in 1931. Playing mother roles for the most part, Miss Peterson is well known to movie and theatre goers alike.

Anthony Ross, whose most famous role is the Gentleman Caller The Glass Menagerie in 1946, received the award for the best performance of the year. For three years during the war, Ross appeared in army shows. This is The Army, Winged Victory, and later served in the Intelligence division. Prior to his war service, Ross played in the original Broadway production of Arsenic and Old Lace. Excursion, was with Helen Hayes in Twelfth Night and with Maurice Evans in Rich and II. In 1948, he appeared on Broadway in The Cup of Trembling with Elizabeth Bergner and in The Survivors by Irwin Shaw. He is also well known to radio listeners.

Others in the cast are Ken Buckridge, Howard Wierem, Althea Murphy, Michael Sivy, Ruth Lorn, Denise Brian, Ole Olson. The production is being staged by Joseph Leon.

Maverick Theatre
Woodstock, July 6—The Vinegar Tree by Paul Osborn is the next presentation at the Maverick Theatre, beginning Wednesday at 8:40 p. m. and continuing through Sunday, July 11.

A comedy, in three acts, the story concerns Laura Merrick, restless as she realizes in her forties that her husband is still

Hurley Publishes Resort Pamphlet;
History Is Cited

The town of Hurley Civic Association has joined the list of Ulster county townships to publish resort pamphlets setting forth the recreational and historical facts of the locality. In a new folder, recently published and now being distributed through numerous recreational and travel bureaus, the advantages of the township of Hurley together with several picturesque views and a map of the town are shown.

Settled in 1662 the village of Hurley became the temporary capital of New York state in 1777, following the burning of Kings-years older than she is, lives largely in an imaginative past in which a handsome young artist figured prominently one purple afternoon. The play is sophisticated and possesses a breath of bitterness and a touch of tragedy. The cast will include Helen Bernstein as Laura Merrick, Richard Williams as Augustus Merrick, Russell Bernhardt as Max Laurence, Kay Dawn as Winifred Mansfield, Kathy Guilford as Leone Merrick, and Roy Graves as Geoffrey Cole.

Woodstock Forum
Will Meet Thursday

Woodstock, July 6—The next meeting of the Woodstock Forum will be on July 8, at 8 o'clock in the Town Hall. Local problems of traffic and zoning will be discussed. V. R. Van de Mark, traffic supervisor of the New York State Police will speak on traffic problems. Members of the Town Board will answer questions on zoning.

The program committee has selected these topics for this next meeting because in its opinion parking facilities in the village are inadequate and believe this question should be thoroughly debated. The same is true with respect to zoning. Said the chairman of the committee, "Zoning concerns all of us. We can let the town grow as it will, or we can plan what shall be residential and what business areas. We can maintain a high standard of building and architecture, with convenient and adequate streets, or we can let the place look like shanty town. And, there is the issue of parks, while desirable land is still available and reasonable."

Will Discuss Library
Fair Plans Thursday

The Woodstock Library Fair will be held on Thursday, July 29, on the library grounds. A planning meeting of all chairmen of committees will be held at the Library on Thursday evening, July 8 at 8 o'clock.

Securing tables for this event has long been a problem. To assist the library in obtaining a large number of the tables required, Holly Cantine has donated the lumber for 18 tables. Bob Cantine, assisted by Gus Schroeder, Louis Weber, Bob Alheim and Cal Dort, will build the tables.

ton which was then the capital of the state. These historical facts together with information as to fishing, hunting and sports the year round are given in the folder which also contains a list of boarding houses, hotels and a business directory of the township. A road route and directory of transportation facilities which serve the town are also a part of the folder. Local information centers are maintained in the town. At Hurley A. J. Dorvaux may be contacted, at West Hurley, Herbert Glass operates the information center and at Glenford, J. H. Stoutenburg. West Virginia counts 15,000 captive coal miners. George Titler, president of the U.M.W. District 29, said between 6,000 and 6,500 of the captive mine workers in his district will not work because they "usually do not go in when they have no contract."

Titler said the largest operation in his district to be affected would be eight mines of the U. S. Coal and Coke Co., a subsidiary of U. S. Steel at Gary, McDowell county, where some 3,000 are employed.

Steel company spokesmen are reluctant to discuss the size of their coal stockpiles which are believed to be high. Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp., largest U. S. Steel subsidiary, has an estimated 30-day supply or 300,000 tons in its Clairton, Pa., stockpile.

Carnegie-Illinois banked the equivalent of four or five blast furnaces during the mine vacation because of a shortage of beehive coke. Shenango and Youngstown Steel also curtailed operations.

Any prolonged stoppage affecting steel production would have a drastic effect on the nation's economy, hitting all steel-using industries.

were reported to be considering this tack as a middle ground which might hold the support, however reluctant, of both factions.

1. Put into the 1948 platform the same general language on civil rights that was incorporated in the 1944 platform after a bitter struggle; 2. Follow this up with a strong plank stating the party's opposition to federal interference with states' rights.

The 1944 Democratic race plank said:

"We believe that racial and religious minorities have the right to live, develop and vote equally with all citizens and share the rights that are guaranteed by our Constitution. Congress should exert its full constitutional powers to protect those rights."

Dixie Democrats accepted this language in 1944. But they launched a bitter attack on Mr. Truman early this year when he sent a message to Congress calling, among other things, for a fair employment practice bill and legislation against lynching, poll taxes, and segregation on interstate transportation.

Congress passed none of these measures.

The Republican party, in its Philadelphia convention last month, wrote into its platform a plank favoring legislation against lynching and poll taxes and opposing racial segregation in the armed forces.

Negro leaders, reminding the G.O.P. platform writers that the 1944 document had said nearly the same thing, accused the party of having failed to deliver on its promises.

New Clue Given About Gravitation; Not New to Science

New York, July 6 (AP)—An explanation of the nature of gravitation is published here today in Physics Today, a journal of the American Institute of Physics.

Gravitation is the greatest mystery of physical science. There has been nothing to explain what it is made of.

The new clue is in some particles of matter, so tiny and so powerful, that they could drive through a solid sheet of lead extending from earth to the center of the Milky Way.

That is nearly as far as the farthest star the naked eye can see. It is as far as light can travel in 35 years.

These particles are neutrinos. They are not new to science. But no one ever has caught a neutrino. They simply had to exist in order to explain some things, like atomic bombs, for example.

The calculations on their amazing nature, and their possible relation to gravitation, are by Dr. George Gamow, Washington, D. C., world-famous theoretical physicist. He says their connection with gravitation must still be regarded with a due amount of fantasy.

Neutrinos are solid particles. But they are far smaller than electrons, which have been the finest known bits of matter. They may be anywhere from 20 to 8,000 times lighter than electrons.

These neutrino particles also have no electrical charges. This fact means that when they strike solid matter, they are not attracted by the electrical charges inside atoms. They are free to go straight through any atom, because any atom is merely holes that are vast in comparison with the size of a neutrino.

Not even the thick bodies of stars, Dr. Gamow says, can stop neutrinos. Stars have bodies of a million miles in diameter, like the sun, up to billions of miles. In stars not only the great size, but the heat that exceeds that of atomic bombs, and other forces, impede or stop the progress of all the other kinds of known particles.

Dr. Gamow says that in studying these tiny particles and looking for others that may be smaller, he has stumbled on the explanation of gravitation. This explanation is in waves of force sent out by tiny particles while they are accelerating at high speeds. Einstein's relativity theories make it possible to calculate the existence of the gravitation waves from such particles.

"We may think," Dr. Gamow writes, "that neutrinos play the same role in respect to the fields of gravity as the electrons play in respect to the electro-magnetic field."

Electrons, the outer shells of atoms, are known to emit electro-magnetic waves. For neutrinos to emit gravity waves seems to require the existence also of a particle or force that opposes a neutrino, and Dr. Gamow cites evidence for the existence of this anti-neutrino.

'Miss New York State'

Niagara Falls, N. Y., July 6 (AP)—"Miss New York State, 1948" is auburn-haired M. Yvonne Fix, 19, of Niagara Falls. Miss Fix won the title last night in competition with eight other unmarried young women in a beauty pageant in Hyde Park Stadium. Rose Marie Formica, Salamanca, placed second and Virginia A. Mount, Cherry Creek, third. The winner weighs 125 pounds and is 5 feet 5½ inches tall. She will represent upstate New York in the Miss America contest at Atlantic City, N. J., September 6-12. New York city will have its own representative, Philip A. Case, director of the contest here, said she is Connie Ronde, 18-year-old model.

Peruvian Army Revolt

Lima, Peru, July 6 (AP)—Virtual martial law existed in Peru today as the government acted to restore public order following Sunday's revolt by the army garrison at Julica in the southeast. An official announcement last night said Brig. Gen. Federico Hurtado, inspector general of the army, has ordered the rebel garrison to surrender and told them the rest of the army is loyal to the government. The military has been given control over communications. Censorship has been established in the cable and telegraph offices. There was no indication as to the reason for Sunday night's revolt.

Questions—Answers

Q—What is the average cost for a commercial ship to go through the Panama Canal?

A—The average cost in tolls for a commercial ship to transit the Panama Canal is nearly $4,000. Some vessels have paid as much as $15,000 tolls to cross from ocean to ocean through this 50-mile American waterway.

Q—Do Confederate veterans get pensions?

A—Persons who fought in the Civil War on the Confederate side do not receive pensions from the federal government. However, all 11 of the former Confederate states provide pensions for ex-Confederate soldiers and for their widows.

Q—Which continents produce the most oil?

A—In the production of oil, North America ranks first and South America second.

Q—What ocean liner recently established a turn-around record?

A—The Queen Mary, which sailed for Europe just 23 hours and 35 minutes after docking in New York.

Q—In art, what is considered the finest head of Christ?

A—The most finished and beautiful of Titian's earlier works is "Christ With the Tribute Money." It is considered by art critics to be the finest head of Christ in art.

Will Establish Museum

Washington, July 6 (AP)—A naval museum will be established in the carriage house and stables of historic Decatur House at Lafayette Square, two blocks from the White House. The Naval Historical Foundation, headed by Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King, announced today that it has obtained a 50-year lease on the property for the display of naval relics such as ship models, weapons, uniforms, pictures and manuscripts. Mrs. Truxtun Beale, owner of Decatur House, has granted a lease on the stables at $1 a year. The foundation estimates that it will cost $25,000 to convert the structures into a museum and $5,000 to operate and maintain the project. The foundation hopes to finance the undertaking through contributions.

Part it in the middle?

It seems a shame to take this guy's money. But, then, the fellow who sits in next may have enough hair to stuff a pillow! Anyhow, at the day's end the barber will have punished his bunions for so many hours and cut so many heads of hair. If he was of a mind to, he could divide the total day's haircuts by the total hours spent and come up with the average time per haircut!

Any appliance dealer selling electrical cooking equipment will be tickled to death to give you complete information about electric cooking. See his stock of appliances, too—particularly the beautiful new electric ranges.

We really have parted electric cooking in the middle! We know to a cent what each of the thousands of families now using electricity to cook with pay us for electricity. It's not hard to figure how much of this total is for cooking alone. Know what average figure we come up with? IN THE AVERAGE HOME, IT COSTS BUT 7¢ PER DAY TO COOK ELECTRICALLY! We've further proved this by actual tests!

Now, that's really laying it right on the line. Approximately 7¢ per day—$2.00 per month—buys completely automatic electric cooking for the average family!

MR. AND MRS. JOHN JOSEPH ROBINSON

The wedding of Miss Ellen Catherine Ryan, 13 Elmendorf street, and John Joseph Robinson, Albany, took place in St. Joseph's Church Saturday morning. (Knute Beichert Photo)

Ellen C. Ryan Wed To John J. Robinson Before Nuptial Mass

The wedding of Miss Ellen Catherine Ryan, daughter of Mrs. Kieran Ryan, 13 Elmendorf street, to John Joseph Robinson, son of Mrs. Thomas Robinson, 4 Beverly avenue, Albany, took place Saturday at 10 a. m. before a Nuptial Mass in St. Joseph's Church. The Rev. John D. Simmons, assistant pastor, performed the double ring ceremony.

Mrs. Frank Rafferty was organist. Anthony Bonacci sang Panis Angelicus, Mother Beloved and O Lord I Am Not Worthy. Palms, white gladioli and snapdragons were used to decorate the church.

The bride was escorted by her brother, James Ryan. Her gown was made with white satin bodice, illusion neckline trimmed with white beading, marquisette sleeves and hoop skirt. She wore a Tudor headpiece with fingertip veil and carried white prayer book with white orchid and ribbon markers.

Mrs. Robinson is sister-in-law of the bridegroom, of Albany, was matron of honor. She wore a lavender tulle gown with matching tulle hat and carried yellow carnations.

Mr. Robinson was best man for his brother, another brother, Bernard Robinson, and Stephen Mastaitis, both of Albany, were ushers.

A reception was held at the New Kirkland Hotel for approximately 50 people. Afterward Mr. and Mrs. Robinson left for a 10-day tour of Canada including Quebec, Montreal and a visit to the Shrine of St. Anne de Beauséjour. For traveling she chose a grey and white seersucker two-piece suit with white hat and gloves and black patent leather shoes and bag. They will live in Albany.

Mrs. Robinson is a graduate of Academy of St. Ursula, Benedictine Hospital School of Nursing and did post graduate work at Post Graduate Hospital, New York city. She served as a navy nurse in World War 2 and is employed in the operating room of the Albany Hospital.

Mr. Robinson was graduated from Albany High School and served in the army for five years during the war, most of which was overseas. He is employed by American Meter Company, Albany.

Hurley Grange Will Sponsor Two Plays

Two one-act plays which have proved extremely popular will be presented at the Hurley School auditorium Thursday at 8 p. m. under the auspices of the Hurley Grange. The plays are Henry's Mail Order Wife and City Slicker and Our Nell, played by members of the Stone Ridge Grange. The plays have been given several times this spring with much success.

Bride Honored Recently At Pre-Nuptial Showers

Several pre-nuptial showers were given Mrs. James Long, the former Miss Catherine Darcy, daughter of Mrs. James Darcy, 29 East Chester street, who was married Monday, June 28. Hostesses were Mrs. Theodore Wood at her home, 332 Broadway, and Mrs. C. Tierney, sister of the bridegroom, at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Post.

Mr. Long is the son of Mrs. John Long, East Kingston. The ceremony was performed at St. Mary's Church by the Rev. Edward I. Farrelly.

String Quartet Will Open Summer Concerts In Three Communities

INEZ CARROLL
Woodstock, July 6.—The Woodstock String Quartet will open its summer series of concerts in three communities this week and next. The first concert will be Thursday, 8:30 p. m. at the Methodist Church Hall, this village; the first concert for Kingston under the auspices of the Sanctuary Choir will be given at St. James Methodist Church, Kingston, Monday, July 12, 2:30 p. m.; and the first in New Paltz under the sponsorship of the Music Association of the New Paltz State Teachers College at the music room on campus will be Tuesday, July 13 at 8:30 o'clock.

Inez Carroll, brilliant pianist, will be the guest artist for this first group of concerts. Miss Carroll was born in Liberty, Miss., and in her early life studied with outstanding piano teachers until she entered Belmont College, Nashville, Tenn., where she studied with Sophie Gushken Berry. She was awarded a gold medal in a contest playing Chopin's first Piano Concerto. Six years later she was graduated with highest distinction from the Conservatory in Cincinnati.

Afterward she studied with Robert Casadesu in Paris, France, and lived in New York devoting her time to teaching and playing chamber music. She now resides in Byrdcliffe.

The program for the three concerts will be String Quartet Opus 44 No. 1 in D Major, Felix Mendelssohn; String Quartets of an Irish Melody, The Londonderry Air by Frank Bridge; and of the Irish Rell, Molly on the Shore, by Percy Grainger; Quintet for Piano, two violins, viola and cello in A Major Opus 81, by Anton Dvorak. Tickets for the Kingston concerts may be obtained at Safford and Scudder's Store, Wall street.

Hutton-DiRienzo Marriage Performed Sunday, July 4.

The marriage of Mrs. Frances F. DiRienzo, daughter of Mrs. Lauretta Frazier, 617 Delaware avenue, and the late Charles H. Frazier, to Warren W. Hutton, 215 West Chestnut street, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hutton, was performed Sunday, July 4, at 2 p. m. The Rev. Herbert E. Killinger officiated at the double ring ceremony in Trinity Methodist Church.

The bride wore a heavenly blue dress with hat to match, white accessories and corsage of pink roses. Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Edward Cox, as matron of honor, wore a gray floral print dress with hat to match, black accessories, and corsage of pink roses.

Arthur Van Nostrand was best man.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the couple's newly furnished apartment, 177 Fair street.

Colonials Drop Two to Black Yankees and Springfield Greys

Rhubarb Mars 4-3 Loss to Negro Nine; Greys Win Despite Downer's Homer

It might have been Ebbets Field for all the things that happened at municipal stadium over the holiday week-end.

The Colonials dropped a pair of heartbreakers, 4 to 3 to the Black Yankees, and 10 to 9 to the Springfield Greys but most of the real excitement centered around Umpire Bill Schwab who found himself involved in more hotspots than a sailor on shore leave.

Saturday's game attracted nearly 1700 fans but only 800 sat in on the Springfield Grey contest.

The Colonials have canceled the game scheduled for Wednesday night, and resume play next Saturday night against the famed Philadelphia Stars of the Negro National League.

Rhubarb in Saturday's Game

A gigantic rhubarb enlivened the Black Yankee contest Saturday night and wound up under a barrage of pop bottles. It was the same old story Sunday night and Schwab was again right in the middle.

A towering smash to left center by Ernie Downer in the sixth inning of Saturday's game touched off the cause celebre. The Yankee left fielder, Stephens, and center-fielder, Davidson, collided after Stephens made the catch. From the pre-box it seemed that Stephens lost control of the ball. He hurriedly picked it up while he and Davidson were rolling over each other.

Rules Fair Catch
Umpire Schwab ruled that Stephens had caught the ball. The argument broke loose in white heat and raged for nearly 20 minutes between Colonial players and the umpire. Then came a shower of pop bottles and a warning by Chief Umpire Bill Murphy that the game would be halted unless the fans stopped throwing bottles.

Two close plays involved Schwab in the Springfield Grey contest Sunday night. Both were at first base and one was against each club. Nothing really serious but just exciting enough to make Bill wish he was fishing up in the mountains.

Warren Muller, the Colonials' problem child failed to show up Sunday and the locals were forced to go with Gus Maisei. After a brilliant performance against the Black Yankees the night before, Gus didn't have it. Neither did Fred Price, who made his pitching debut while Johnny Schatzel moved to first base. All the while Bill Windburn pitched a game in the bullpen.

Francello Stars
Despite the losses, the Colonials had their heroes in two games that should have been wrapped up as easily as you can crunch an ice cream cone.

Master procrastinators, the Colonials left 17 men stranded against the Black Yankees and 11 against the Greys. Maisei suffered one bad inning, the fourth, against the Yankees and then permitted only one hit in the last five innings. The Colonials were off to a 3-1 lead against the Negro National League troupe but squandered several scoring chances in the last seven rounds. They loaded the bases four times and failed to score.

Charlie Francello enjoyed one of the greatest days of his career against the Greys. After relieving Buddy Van Herpe, he was struck in the face by a ground ball in the first inning. Francello poked four singles in five trips and was robbed of another hit when the second sacker moved toward second base on a steal.

Fall in Ninth

CHARLIE FRANCELLO

After languishing on the bench for several games, Francello returned to the lineup with a bang against the Springfield Greys Sunday night. Relieving the injured Buddy Van Herpe in the second inning, Francello played brilliant ball in the field and smashed four hits in five trips. On his fifth trip he lost a base hit when the Greys' second sacker moved toward second on a steal pulled down a vicious line drive right over the bag.

Losing pitcher, Maisei, Umpires, Murphy and Schwab, Time of game, 2:37.

Spectators on Left Field Rim Disagree With Ump

Did the Colonials have a legitimate beef when they squawked long and loudly against Umpire Bill Schwab's decision in the sixth inning of the Colonial-Black Yankees contest Saturday night at the stadium.

They certainly did in the opinion of several fans who were seated along the left field bank right in front of the play.

It happened this way. Ernie Downer smashed a long drive to left. The Yankee fielder, Stephens veered toward left center and the moment of the catch collided with the centerfielder, Davidson. The two went down in a heap.

Did He Drop It?

During the scuffle, it appeared that Stephens lost control of the ball and seemed to be reaching out for something. Spectators on the bank said it was the ball.

The Colonial led by Manager Joe Hoffman swarmed all over Umpire Schwab after the call. The portly pilot insisted it was a fair catch. The Colonials thought otherwise and for 20 minutes hell broke loose, followed by the pop bottle barrage.

Woman Says "Yes"

Mrs. Frank Vault and her daughter, Julie, of Lake Katrine were seated directly in front of the play. They told a Freeman reporter that Stephens had dropped the ball.

"The two players collided," she said, "and then fell one on top of the other. The ball rolled about 20 inches away. Stephens reached out and quickly grabbed the ball and held it above his head."

Billy Ball, a City League player, and Freddie Wiedemann corroborated Mrs. Vault's statement. Umpire Schwab said he called the play as he saw it.

From the press box which is the highest elevation on the field, it seemed that Stephens was reaching out for something immediately after the crash.

When a reporter visited the Black Yankees dressing room, Stephens refused to commit himself. Davidson who was involved in the collision, brushed off inquiries with a brusque: "The umpire called it, didn't he?"

Stephens, meanwhile, sat on a bench, stripping down and flashing a big smile.

Major League Roundup

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Indians and Boston Braves will meet in the World Series next October if the old baseball axiom—"the team in first place on July 4 wins the pennant"—holds true this year.

The end of the holiday activities today finds the Indians still pacing the American League by one full game and the Braves on top in the National by two.

In the American League's 47-year history, the team in first place Independence Day won the pennant 30 seasons as against 17 winners who had not led on July 4. That is a .638 percentage.

The July 4 first placers fared even better in the National as 31 went on to win the flag against the 16 who didn't. That represents a .650 percentage.

Nearly two-thirds of the teams which led on July 4 became the eventual pennant winners.

Split with Tigers

The Indians were held even in their doubleheader with the Tigers in Cleveland yesterday, but lost no ground to their closest pursuers as the second place Philadelphia Athletics also split a twin bill and the third place New York Yankees were handed a rousing double deusing by the Red Sox in Boston.

The Indians won the opener, 6-3, for Bobby Lemon's 12th triumph. The Tigers took a 7-5 victory in the nightcap.

A bright spot for Cleveland was Ken Keltner's two home runs which put him on top in that department once again with 19.

Held to six hits and defeated 3-1 by Mickey Haefner and the Senators in Washington, the Athletics bounced back in the second game, mauling five Dodgers in one game. Johnny Mize of the Giants holds the record, five. Lou Gehrig, Yankee immortal, was the only other batter to own three.

Gerry Staley, who had not won a game all season, received credit for both Cardinal victories, in relief. Stan Musial rapped two hits in each game to boost his batting average to .410. The second game was halted after five and a half innings by rain.

Rex Barney pitched the second complete game of his big league career as the Brooklyn Dodgers jolted the Phillies in both ends of a Philadelphia doubleheader, 4-3 and 10-1.

Yankees Drop Two

The Yankees appeared en route to a split, holding a 7-5 edge in the eighth inning, but Doerr's third home run with Ted Williams on base tied the count. A single by Matt Batts, a sacrifice, and Dom DiMaggio's single broke up the game in the ninth.

Jack Kramer had easy sailing in the opener until the last two innings. August 6-0, he allowed two runs in the eighth. Then, with two out in the ninth, the Yankees scored three times on Johnny Lindell's homer with one on and three singles.

The Chicago White Sox, season long occupants of the American League cellar, climbed within a game and a half of the seventh place Browns by sweeping both ends of a doubleheader from St. Louis, 3-2 and 5-4.

Week-End Hash:

Fred Schryver, who operates Fred's Bar and Grill at the corner of Cornell and Smith, hard by the City Baseball League activities, is to be commended for his contribution to the league. . . . Fred erected the flagpole in center field, put it up himself, purchased a flag and daily he raises and lowers Old Glory. . . . It was a nice gesture on Fred's part and is appreciated by the league and fans alike.

Famous Last Words:

Poughkeepsie dispatch: "Billy Ostrom has been suspended for two days by the Poughkeepsie Chiefs, Gabe Mauro, business manager said today. The hard-hitting pitcher who is currently hitting .394 failed to obey a club rule, Mauro said. . . . However, Billy is expected to be in action. . . . Chances are the Hudson valley's Rube Waddell decided to play softball with the neighborhood kids. . . . Ostrom has the most unique contract in organized ball. . . . He plays only in home games and demands permission to wear his baseball cap, morning, noon and night.

Flotsam and Jetsam:

Those Willwycok Motors are smoking in the City League and must be rated an even chance to cop the title. . . . The real pressure goes on Morgan in the second round. . . . In postponed game playoffs they will encounter lineups considerably stronger than the originals would have been, due of course to the influx of college and high school players. . . . Bob Hahn, Arlington High School ace, who made his debut in the two circuit last week, has been voted the most valuable pitcher in Dutchess scholastic circles. . . . Do you ever see such drooling as follows a Giant victory over the Dodgers. . . . There isn't a Giant rooter in town who will lay even money on the Ottmen in any given game against the Burns. . . . "They're too lucky," is the stock evasion.

Of Men and Mice:

Army scientists have developed a gadget which furnishes a steady and uninterrupted supply of wind, but, thank goodness it isn't a candidate for any high political office. . . . State anglers have a real mark to shoot at in the northern pile division of the Louis A. Welch fishing contest. . . . Eddie Catroppa of Herkimer entered a 26 pound, 9 ounce Great Northern which he took from the Sacandaga reservoir on May 1. . . . Speaking of pike, George Flemings, the golfer-bowler, and Ed Davey have returned from a successful piscatorial safari to Gananaqua Lake in the province of Quebec where they snagged more than 400 fish in a week, mostly northern pike, the heaviest of which weighed about 15 pounds. . . . Other Kingstonians they saw playing the trade included Matt Herzog, Gardiner, Bess, Tony Van Gonsie and Ray Camnitz. . . . Flemings and Davey attributed their amazing luck to a full-blooded Algonquin Indian guide. . . . Name? . . . Naomi "Spear Heap Fish" Alwaysketchum.

The Kingston Athletic Association's $1500 junior baseball program got under way at four parks today. The first project of its type ever undertaken in the city, it climaxes two years of planning by the K.A.A. and particularly reflects the great interest of Dr. Francis O'Connor and Thomas M. "Tommy" Davitt, past presidents of the organization.

The Kingston Power Boat Association's souvenir program hit the desk today. . . . It's another swell job. . . . Among the acting judges for the July 11 regatta we note such hardy sons of the salt as Hon. John T. Loughran, Hon. Arthur H. Wicks, Jack Eyer, Hon. Harry E. Schickel, Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk, Edmund Coughlin and Addison Jones. . . . The latter two absorbed enough rain at municipal stadium this season to be right at home on the Rondout. . . . A glaring omission, we think, is Claude Needes, contractor for watery golf courses.

Memorial Defiled
Capetown (AP)—Vandals have destroyed with a hammer the little stone galleon which rests on top of the pedestal of the famous memorial erected on the Capetown shores in memory of Capt. Scott, the Antarctic explorer who with four companions perished in March, 1912, when returning from the South Pole. Broken parts of the galleon were discovered at the base of the monument. Police are investigating.

N. J. operator of the heavy vehicle, was arrested on a charge of criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle. He was arraigned before Justice Eugene O'Gorman, bail was fixed at $2,000 and hearing set for July 7.

The state police said that the brakes had failed on the tractor-trailer. It first struck a truck owned by the Dairyman's League, then the car in which the woman was killed.

Others caught in its course, the police said, were a sedan operated by Robert List, 45, of New York, who was injured slightly and another car, driven by Joseph Angerami, 19, of Wurtsboro.

Lottie Vazian, 45, of New York, who was in the List car suffered a broken left arm, the report said.

Brugmann purchased the Kirkland Hotel on September 2, 1947, at which time negotiations were made with G. A. Schneider and Son for the leasing of the Wall street location. Brugmann will devote his time to the management of the Kirkland Hotel, which he has almost completely redecorated both inside and outside.

Holiday Deaths
Are More Than 500

(By The Associated Press)
The nation's death toll in violent accidents over the holiday season far past the 500 three-day Independence Day mark today and higher than the total in 1947.

Four persons lost their lives in fireworks accidents.

Only two of the 48 states—New Hampshire and South Dakota—reported no accidental deaths. Pennsylvania had the heaviest state toll—44, including 23 traffic fatalities, 14 drownings, six miscellaneous and one fireworks.

Michigan followed Pennsylvania in total violent deaths—36, while 35 lost their lives in California in accidents. Ohio's toll was 31; New York's 27, Illinois' 22 and Texas' 20.

Romanoff Marries

Hollywood, July 6 (AP)—"Prince" Mike Romanoff, favorite caterer to many Hollywood celebrities, mixed business with pleasure today. He was back greeting visitors to his Beverly Hills restaurant and accepting congratulations on his marriage to Gloria Lister, 22, at Las Vegas Sunday night. Romanoff—born Harry F. Gerguson in Cincinnati—said a honeymoon trip will come later. It was the first marriage for each. They eloped by plane and were wed by Justice of the Peace Harvey McDonald.

dirate economic and political as well as military problems common to all of them.

This is the first time that Canada has been brought into the picture. Officials said the inclusion of the Dominion is logical because of its close relations with both Britain and the United States.

Today's meeting was described as largely "preliminary" to the extent that the immediate problem before the diplomats is to figure out how to proceed in tackling the two great political and military issues which now confront the western powers.

A foreign diplomat said that these two issues are:

In the political field, how to go about obtaining an alliance or some other form of military support by the United States for the western European bloc.

In the military field, determination of the kind and extent of American arms and equipment which may be needed to provide reasonably adequate defenses against any possible Russian attack.

not available but one of his lieutenants said the matter might not "necessarily be finally closed."

Among those who accepted the Eisenhower statement as a final refusal was Leon Henderson, chairman of Americans for Democratic Action. He said it amounted to rejecting the nomination.

A similar view was expressed by Cy Bevan, Michigan national committeeman, who said that "it appears beyond question that he (Eisenhower) will not accept. That's the end of it as far as I'm concerned."

James S. Peters, Georgia state chairman, said his state's convention votes now would go to Sen. Russell of Georgia.

The statement from Eisenhower, who retired as chief of staff to accept the presidency of Columbia University, was in the form of a memorandum to Harron.

Dated July 5, it was typed on a sheet crested with the Eisenhower five stars and the initials "D. D. E."

Eisenhower said in the memorandum to Harron that "I know that your office has for some days been overburdened with innumerable queries concerning my intentions in regard to the current political situation."

"My decisions and earnest convictions concerning possible personal connection with this year's political contest were given to the public several months ago, but it now appears that there has arisen a question as to whether or not I have changed my position."

"Profoundly touched by the renewed suggestion that I could satisfactorily fill high public office, my views with respect to my proper course of duty are still identical with those presented in the letter I wrote on Jan. 23, 1948."

(At that time the General wrote to Leonard F. Manchester, N. H., newspaper publisher, that "I am not available for and could not accept the nomination for high political office.")

In response to any further queries, the note continued, "as to my course of action during the foreseeable future, and in order that there may be no possible room for doubt in the mind of any interested American, will you please invite attention to the firm purposes expressed in my January letter and quote the following as coming personally from me:

"I shall continue, subject to the pleasure of the University Trustees, to perform the important duties I have undertaken as president of Columbia. I will not, at this time, identify myself with any political party, and could not accept nomination for any public office or participate in partisan political contest."

"This implies no intention of maintaining silence on any issue of importance to the country on which I may feel qualified to express an opinion."

Eisenhower is scheduled to address Columbia summer students on the campus today but there has been no advance indication of the subject of his remarks.

Walks Into Chimney

Boston, July 6 (AP)—Paul Lawrence, 26, went sleep walking right up to his armpits in a chimney. Summoned by neighbors, police found him wedged in the flue last night. They quoted him as saying he was sleeping on the roof of his home and did not wake up until he toppled in the chimney. Lawrence's plight was discovered by a neighbor who heard bricks falling. City hospital attaches said he apparently suffered no injuries.

GUEST'S OBLIGATION TO STRANGE HOSTESS

Referring to my previous answer in this column—that when two or more hostesses invite you to a party, your obligation is then only to the hostess who is your personal friend—this letter continues: "But when invited to a party given by two hostesses, only one a personal friend, what is the guest's future obligation to the stranger at whose house the party is given? Does that in any way alter your previous answer?"

No, the answer is the same. The meaning of "obligation" may have been ambiguous, so let me add: While it is not exacted that you invite this impersonal hostess to a return party, it is definitely courteous to do so, if you can.

"My Husband" Is the Solution

Dear Mrs. Post: Why do certain friends of mine refer to their husbands as "Mr.—"? It always gives me the queer feeling that they believe if they call him "John," I'll do the same. Is it correct to refer to one's husband as "Mr.—" to anyone who does not call him by first name?

Answer: "My husband" is the proper way to refer to one's husband when among acquaintances who are known too slightly to use his first name. But to call one's husband anything other than "John" when among friends—whether they call him by his name or not—is not only very bad form, but distrustful of their good taste.

Masculine Terms Preferred

Dear Mrs. Post: "Is the correct term 'toastmistress' or 'toastmaster' when referring to a woman?"

Answer: Either is correct, although the masculine form for both is noticeably the current preference.

Railroad Must Stand Examination of Damage

State Supreme Court Justice

Frederick G. Schmidt last week ruled that the New York, Ontario and Western Railroad must stand examination before trial in an action in which the railroad is being sued for alleged damage to freight it was transporting.

The decision is considered by members of the legal profession to be of prime importance to all shippers of freight in this state because heretofore in suits of this nature shippers were not permitted to examine the carrier railroad in connection with matters on which the burden of proof was on the shipper.

Justice Schmidt, sitting in Newburgh, ruled the railroad must explain both the facts as to how it considered the freight to have been negligently packed by the shipper, Meyer Goldstein of Ellenville, as well as the facts upon which the company bases its contention that it was careful in transporting the merchandise.

The action was brought by Goldstein to recover $1,500 for alleged smashed freight shipped by him from Ellenville to a point in South Carolina. The railroad is represented by John Bright of Watt, Oakes and Bright of Middletown, while Manuel Dittenheimer of Ellenville represents Goldstein.

Morrissey and Brink Win Stadium Prizes

Winners of the merchandise certificate prizes at the municipal stadium Saturday and Sunday nights were Tom Morrissey, Jr. of Kingston, and Richard Brink of Stone Ridge. The prize donors were Byron S. Chatham of J. C. Penney's and Walter T. Elston of Elston's Sporting Goods. Another prize will be awarded next Saturday by a member of the Chamber of Commerce.

5,100 Visit Submarine

Harold J. Sheehan Is Honored and Officers Feted

Chamber of Commerce and City Officials Assist Committee in Charge

Over 5,000 people escaped the heat by visiting the cool confines of the air-conditioned submarine which was tied up at the Newcombe dock for the July Fourth celebration, which also honored Harold J. Sheehan of this city, a severely wounded navy veteran.

The U.S.S. Irex, which was commissioned in 1945, is one of the largest and most modern submarines built in this country. Keen interest was displayed by those who visited the submarine over the holiday week-end.

The committee expressed its profound gratitude to Commander Raymond A. Moore, U.S.N., and to the other officers and members of the crew for their courtesy in escorting the people about the ship and explaining the many technical details of this modern submarine.

The Chamber of Commerce, Saturday night, sponsored a dinner in honor of Mr. Sheehan at the Twaalfskill Club. Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk and Alderman-at-Large Charles J. Turck welcomed the officers of the submarine to Kingston and also paid tribute to Mr. Sheehan. Albert Kurek, representing the Chamber of Commerce, assisted Commander Gottfried with the arrangements.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bohan, Mary Bohan, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Quilty, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Shurter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sheehan, Major and Mrs. Theodore R. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. George Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. George Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Owens, Col. and Mrs. Ernest Steuding, Paul McGowan, Miss Helen Shields, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Gach, Mr. and Mrs. Herman E. Gottfried, Mr. and Mrs. Louis R. Netter, Captain R. A. Moore, commanding officer of the U.S.S. Irex; Lt. Commander Swanbeck, executive officer; Lt. T. Snyder, Ensign Snyder, and Ensign Gordon.

After a most delightful dinner, the officers of the ship showed a movie entitled "Submarine Service," which depicted actual combat and operating conditions for submarines. Later that evening the officers were entertained at a dance as guests of Dr. and Mrs. John B. Krom at Cal Bar at Cottekill. The officers of the crew spent much of the next day at the golf course enjoying the hospitality of the Twaalfskill Club. This was followed by a picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gottfried. That evening several members of the committee together with the officers attended the play at the Woodstock Theatre, which was enjoyed tremendously because of the fine acting of Miss Lillian Gish and the supporting cast.

The last day of the stay a golf match was arranged between the officers and the crew and resulted in a highly interesting contest. A farewell dinner party was held at Judy's restaurant.

The committee wishes to thank Amos Newcombe for his generosity in allowing the ship to tie up at his dock; Dr. and Mrs. John B. Krom, for their hospitality; the officers of the Twaalfskill Club for their excellent hospitality; Tony Alecca and St. Mary's Benevolent Association: Michael Linenthal of the Woodstock Playhouse, and Addison Jones of the Kingston Colonials. Many of the crew attended the baseball games and enjoyed them tremendously.

Dewey, No Comment
Pawling, N. Y., July 6 (AP)—News that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had counted himself out of the race for the Democratic presidential nomination brought no public comment from Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican candidate. Dewey's self-imposed three day ban on work of any description ends today. For the next three weeks at his farm here he will mix campaign organization and state work with rest and recreation.

President Feels Eisenhower Move Ends All Threats

Truman Said to View First-Ballot Selection Likelihood at Convention

Aboard Truman train enroute to Washington, July 6 (AP)—President Truman sped back to Washington today with what his aides said was the feeling that the rug had been pulled out from under opponents of his nomination.

They reported Mr. Truman was convinced General Dwight D. Eisenhower's assertion he cannot accept nomination for public office had removed the only dangerous threat to his first-ballot selection at the Democratic convention in Philadelphia. Mr. Truman had retired for the night aboard his private car when it reached St. Louis shortly before midnight. A telegram from the Associated Press to this staffer aboard the Presidential special train was the first word Mr. Truman had of Eisenhower's action.

The reporter sent the telegram to the president via Brig. General Wallace H. Graham, the White House physician. Graham returned with this comment from the President: "General Eisenhower is an honorable man."

One of Mr. Truman's confidants, who would not be quoted by name, said he felt that much of the strength behind the move to deny him the Presidential nomination would disappear with the removal of General Eisenhower from the picture. The President has maintained all along that he will win nomination on the first ballot. He said as much at his last Washington news conference. Since that time the movement to draft Eisenhower had spread. Frank J. Hague, national committeeman from New Jersey, was among those who joined it.

Even in the face of the growing opposition, the President's official party has insisted that General Eisenhower is a Republican and would not accept a draft. Mr. Truman appeared in good humor as he met crowds at Wilford, Mo., Springfield, Mo., and other points on his way back from Bolivar, Mo., where he spoke yesterday with President Romulo Gallegos of Venezuela.

He steered clear of political talk at his platform appearance at Springfield. He held to the theme of western homophere solidarity that he used at Bolivar. Asked to "say something" at Newburg, Mo., he replied "there is nothing to say—this is really a non-political trip."

Mr. Truman has not indicated his choice of a running mate in the event of his nomination, his associates say.
